To Whom It May Concern

America Works is the largest supplier of services to the Baltimore Department of Social Services, a contractor to the State Department of Human Resources and a current recipient of funding from the Abell Foundation.

We also have a very successful partnership with First Diversity Health Care and its president Mr. George Miller, to place a significant number of people with the University of Maryland hospital system. As a result of this partnership the University of Maryland has been able to achieve its goal of making a significant contribution to the social welfare of the city of which it is a part, without compromising in any way the quality of the staff they hire.

I would not hesitate to recommend Mr. Miller and his organization who combine business efficiency and a social conscience to offer their clients the best of both worlds.

Sincerely,
